Mike Speaks . . . People Get It

Proven Tips, Tools & Tactics to End Your Frustrations and Improve Profits

Proven Strategies Principal, Mike Nordbye, Ph.D., is available to share his education, experience, and strategies for producing measurable results on the bottom line by linking People, Productivity and Profits.

An organizational development consultant with 15 years experience, Mike has a humorously entertaining way of communicating the complex concepts that create workplaces where people want to do exceptional work and feel exceptional about the work they do!

Described as a “positive, proactive, and personal” speaker, Mike’s 30-90 minute presentations include a broad range of topics that relate to “Real World Challenges.”

Not Just Another Talk

In addition to keynote presentations, these talks are great for sales meetings, weekly department meetings, networking, lunch, or dinner events. If you would like a complimentary 30-60 minute presentation to engage your team and discover Mike’s process of turning companies into high-performance organizations . . . this is the answer.

What Have Other Organizations Said?

“Mike’s outgoing personality along with quality information is exactly what our members like.”

“Mike said a few things that really got me thinking in a new direction regarding what is working with my current situation, as opposed to what is not working. I’m noticing that all kinds of positive movements have started. Thanks for the insight and the inquiries.”

“Mike’s energy and enthusiasm is contagious – very motivational.”

“Mike quickly and efficiently got to the root of my company’s ‘opportunity for growth.’ He gave me more ‘news I could use’ in just a few hours than previous consultants have given over a period of months.”

“Out of all the business coaches and advisors, your help in yesterday’s meeting, I am confident, catapulted us farther than any other advisor. I really could not have made this kind of progress without you.”
